Koka Booth Amphitheatre restricts audio levels, for all events to 95 dBA SPL (measured 80' from the stage). Audio levels are measured & monitored in real-time using a TREND Sound Monitoring Device. Levels are measured in 5-minute averages (95db a LEQ) so that artist and venue sound technicians can adjust levels, as necessary. These five-minute averages are monitored at the mix position in real time with financial penalties assessed if breached. Delay Speaker system grid placed inconspicuously amongst the trees provides balanced and articulated sound for large audiences.
